AN ACT CONCERNING NOTES PAYABLE ON DEMAND.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

SECT. 1. In any action brought upon a promissory note payable on demand, made after this act shall go into operation, by an indorser against the promisor, any matter shall be deemed a legal defence, and may be given in evidence accordingly, which would be a legal defence to a suit on the same note, if brought by the promisee.

SECT. 2. On any promissory note payable on demand, made after this act shall go into operation, a demand made at the expiration of sixty days from the date thereof without grace, or at any time within that term, shall be deemed to be made within a reasonable time ; and any act, neglect or other thing which by the rules of law and the customs of merchants is deemed equivalent to a presentment and demand, on a note payable at a fixed time, or which would dispense with such presentment and demand, if it shall occur at or within the said term of sixty days, shall be deemed to be a dishonor thereof, and shall authorize the holder of such note to give notice of the dishonor thereof to the indorser as upon a presentment to the promisor and his neglect or refusal to pay the same. And no presentment of such note to the promisor and demand of payment thereof, shall be deemed to be made within a reasonable time, so as to charge the indorser thereof, unless made on or before the last day of said term of sixty days.

SECT. 3. Upon all promissory notes payable on demand, made after this act shall go into operation, the several indorsers thereof shall be liable, upon due and seasonable notice, given according to the rules of law and the customs of merchants, of the dishonor of such notes in the same manner and to the same effect as upon the dishonor of promissory notes payable at a fixed time, and not otherwise. The Convention of the Congregational Ministers in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Is a voluntary Association, embracing all the Congregational Clergy of the Commonwealth, but vested with no particular authority or control over the Churches.

Their meeting is held in Boston, on the last Wednesday in May, annually, at five o'clock, P. M. and the following day. After transacting the usual business of the Convention, a sermon is delivered in public before them, and a collection made for the charitable purpose of relieving the indigent Widows of Congregational clergymen.

The Officers of the Convention at present are—

Rev. Nehemiah Adams, of Boston, Scribe of the Convention.

Rev. Samuel K. Lothrop, of Boston, Treasurer.

Rev. James Walker, D. D. of Cambridge, first Preacher.

Rev. Leonard Withington, of Newbury, second do.

For the purpose of investigating cases of necessity, and of application for the charity of the Convention, there are two standing Committees; a Central Committee, chosen centrally, and a Reporting Committee, whose members reside in different parts of the State. The Reporting Committee are required, each year, to investigate the circumstances of the objects of this charity, whether already on the list, or needing, or applying the first time for aid, and make a particular statement to the Central Committee, directed to the Scribe of the Convention, at least one week before the meeting of the Convention. Should any member neglect so to do for two successive years, his place in the Reporting Committee shall be vacated. The Central Committee receive from the members of the Reporting Committee applications and statements of facts in behalf of subjects of the charity of the Convention, and, having considered the same, are to judge of the persons to be relieved, and the proportion to be given to each, and make report to the Convention, on the first day of their meeting, annually.

The statements of the members of the Reporting Committee are expected to contain answers to the following questions—

1. What is her age?
2. What are the number, the sex, the ages, and the circumstances of her children?
3. What is a fair estimate of her property?
4. What is her ability to help herself?
5. What connexions has she, who are bound to afford her assistance? And in what way do they assist her?
6. What is her income?
7. What peculiar circumstances render her an object of charity; or make it desirable that she should have aid this year?

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

Change in the expense of living in England.

In the 15th century the expense of living to the lower and middle ranks of people in England was, according to Dr. Henry, nominally ten times, and really five times less than at the beginning of the 19th century, to persons of the same rank. In the 16th century the expense of living in England was about twice as great as in the 15th century, or about five times less than in the beginning of the 19th century. The wages of a common laborer in the 15th century was $1\frac{1}{2}d$, and in the 16th, $3d$. a day. "But he was really as rich, and could live as well, as a laborer in our times who earns $15d$. a day."

APPENDIX.

INSOLVENT LAW OF 1838.

Prepared by P. W. Chandler, Esq.

1. The insolvent Law of Massachusetts was originally prepared by Messrs. Charles Jackson, Samuel Hubbard, and John B. Davis, Commissioners, appointed under a resolve of March 18, 1831, and was reported by those gentlemen, May 31, 1831, to the Legislature, then in session. The bill did not become a law until the session of 1838, when it was enacted with very little discussion, and by a large majority.

2. The law provides that any debtor whose debts amount to five hundred dollars may apply to the Judge of Probate, or any Master of Chancery, in the County where he lives, or in which he has his usual place of business, setting forth his inability to pay his debts, his willingness to assign all his property, and his desire to take the benefit of the Insolvent Act.

3. Upon such application, the Judge of Probate, or Master in Chancery, is required to appoint a Messenger to take possession of the debtor's estate, both real and personal, except such as may be by law exempted from attachment, and to keep the same until one or more assignees shall be appointed.

[By the Revised Statutes of Massachusetts, the following articles are exempted from execution, to wit:—

1. The necessary wearing apparel of the debtor, and of his wife and children; one bedstead, bed, and the necessary bedding for every two persons of the family; one iron stove used for warming the dwelling house; and fuel not exceeding the value of ten dollars, procured and designed for the use of the family.

2. Other household furniture, necessary for the debtor and his family, not exceeding fifty dollars in value.

3. The bibles and school books used in the family.

4. One cow, six sheep, one swine and two tons of hay; the six sheep not to exceed thirty dollars in value.

5. The tools and implements of the debtor, necessary for carrying on his trade or business, not exceeding fifty dollars in value.

6. The uniform of an officer, non-commissioned officer or private, in the Militia, and the arms and accoutrements required by law to be kept by him.

7. Rights of burial, and tombs whilst in use as repositories of the dead.]

4. The Messenger immediately gives notice as ordered by the Judge, or Master, that no payment may thereafter be made to the debtor, and no property be delivered to, or transferred by him, and calls a meeting of the creditors of the debtor to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees.

5. The Judge, or Master, is to attend this meeting and allow such claims against the debtor as shall then be proved, and the creditors are to choose one or more assignees of the estate; or, if they are unable to effect a choice, the assignees shall be appointed by the Judge, or Master.

6. The latter shall then assign and convey to the assignees all the estate of the debtor, except such as may be by law exempt from attachment, with all his deeds, books and papers relating thereto, which assignment shall vest in the assignees all the property of the debtor, which he could by any way or means have lawfully sold, assigned or conveyed, or which might have been taken in execution on any judgment against him, at the time of the first publication of the notice by the Messenger, although the same may then be attached on mesne process as the property of the debtor; and such assignment shall be effectual to pass all the said estate and dissolve any such attachment.

7. The debtor is to make a full schedule of his debts for the assignees, and may be examined on oath, upon all matters, relating to the disposal of his estate, and to his trade and dealings with others, and his accounts concerning the same, and relating to all debts due or claimed from him, and to all other matters concerning his estate, and the due settlement thereof according to law.

8. The Judge, or Master, shall allow the debtor such sum for the necessary support of himself and his family for two months, not exceeding the rate of $3,00 per week for each member of his family, as he may think proper.

9. Within three months another meeting of the creditors is to be held, and those who have not before proved their claims may then do so. The debtor may amend the schedule of his creditors and correct any mistakes therein, and, upon making oath that it is to the best of his knowledge and belief, full and true; that he has delivered to the Messenger; and, since their appointment, to his assignees, every thing which he is required by law to deliver to those officers respectively,—that, if any thing shall hereafter come to his knowledge or possession, which ought to be assigned and delivered to the assignees, he will forthwith disclose or deliver the same,—and that he has not in any way made over, or in any way disposed of, any part of his estate or effects, for the future benefit of himself or his family, or to defraud his creditors, the Judge, or Master, if satisfied, that the debtor has made a full disclosure and delivering of all his estate, and that he has in all things conformed himself to the directions of the act, shall grant him a certificate thereof.

10. The debtor shall be thereupon absolutely and wholly discharged from all his debts, which shall be at any time actually proved against his estate assigned as aforesaid; and from all debts which are provable under this act, and which are founded on any contract made by him, after August 1, 1838, and due to any persons who shall be residents within this Commonwealth, at the time of the first publication of the notice by the Messenger; and the debtor shall be also forever discharged and exempted from arrest or imprisonment, in any suit, or upon any proceeding, for, or on account of any debt or demand whatever, which might have been proved against his estate.

11. But if one half in number or in value of the creditors who shall be creditors respectively for not less than fifty dollars, shall object to the granting of such certificate, it shall not be granted unless by the Supreme Judicial Court on appeal.

12. In case the Judge of Probate, or the Master in Chancery, shall not see cause to grant such certificate, or if the granting thereof shall be prevented by the objection of the creditors as above-mentioned, the debtor may appeal to the Supreme Judicial Court, and after a full hearing, that Court may cause a certificate to be made under the seal of the Court and delivered to the debtor.

13. And every debtor so discharged, shall be allowed five per cent. on the net produce of all his estate that shall be received by the assignees, in case such net produce, after such allowance made, shall be sufficient to pay the creditors the amount of fifty per cent. on their debts respectively: and so as the said allowance shall not exceed in the whole, the sum of five hundred dollars

14. The certificate of discharge, however, shall be of no avail to the debtor, if he shall have wilfully sworn falsely, or fraudulently concealed any part of his property, or, with a view of taking advantage of the Insolvent Act, and preferring any creditor, shall have paid him his debt, or assigned to him any property. And all payments or assignments designed to favor a creditor in such case are made void, and the creditor knowingly receiving such payment or assignment by way of preference, shall be entitled to no dividend, from the estate in the hands of the trustees; and the assignees may recover from the creditor so preferred, the value of the property received by him, for the benefit of the other creditors.

15. The assignees shall give public notice of their appointment and shall demand and receive from the Messenger, and from all other persons, all the debtor's estate, which they shall sell on such terms as they may think most for the interest of the creditors.

16. At any regular meeting called for that purpose, one or all of the assignees may be removed by a vote of the creditors, and new assignees appointed.

17. Within six months from the time of their appointment, the assignees shall call a meeting of all the creditors, when those who have not before proved their debts, shall be allowed to prove the same; the accounts of the assignees shall be examined, and the Judge, or Master, shall thereupon make an order for a dividend of the estate, or of such part of it as he may think fit.

18. Within eighteen months after the appointment of the assignees, another meeting shall be called, when other claims may be proved, the assignees' account be settled, and another dividend made. At this time all outstanding debts due to the insolvent may be sold, so that, if possible, a final settlement may be made.

19. Where the debtor himself does not commence the proceedings, and there are certain circumstances, which show that he is either unable or unwilling to pay his just debts in full, proceedings may be instituted against him by certain of his creditors, for the purpose of compelling an assignment of his property for the benefit of the whole.

20. The circumstances, upon the occurrence of which the debtor may be compelled to become an insolvent are—

1. Where he is arrested for a sum equal to one hundred dollars, founded on any such demand as may be proved against his estate under the statute, and does not give bail before the return day of the process.

2. Where the debtor is arrested and actually lies in prison for more than thirty days, either on mesne process or execution, in any civil action, founded on any such contract, for a sum equal to one hundred dollars, and

3. Where the debtor suffers his goods or estate to be attached on mesne process in any civil action, for a sum equal to one hundred dollars, and does not dissolve the attachment on or before the last day of the term of the Court to which such process is returnable.

21. Any person who shall have performed any labor as an operative in the service of any insolvent shall be entitled to receive from the assignee of such insolvent, the full amount of the wages due him for such labor, not exceeding twenty-five dollars, provided that such labor shall have been performed within sixty-five days before the insolvency of his employer.—Dickinson's Boston Almanack.

The whole number of insolvents who have taken advantage of the Law in Boston, is as follows:—before Edward G. Loring, 84; Joseph Willard, 63; William Minot, 11; Willard Phillips, Judge of Probate, 2. Total, 160. Of these, 100 have received their discharge. In 21 cases the estates are settled up, and the papers returned into the Probate Office. In one instance the debtor absconded before taking the oath.—Law Reporter.

DR. HERSCHEL'S TABLE

For Foretelling the Weather, through all the Lunations of each Year, forever,—amended by

DR. ADAM CLARKE.

This table and the accompanying remarks are the result of many years' actual observation ; the whole being constructed on a due consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon, in their several positions respecting the earth, and will, by simple inspection, show the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the entrance of the moon into any of its quarters, and that so near the truth as to be seldom or never found to fail.

If the new moon, the 1st qr., the full moon, or the last qr. happens	IN SUMMER.	IN WINTER.
Between midnight & 2 in the morning, {	Fair. {	Hard frost, unless the wind be S. or W. {

— 8 and 10 " {	Changeable {	Cold rain, if wind W. {

At 12 o'cl'k. at noon and 2 P. M. {	Very rainy {	Cold and high wind. {

— 10 and midnight {	Ditto. {	Rain or sn. if S. or S. W. {
	Fair. {	Ditto. {
		Fair and frosty. {

Observations.—1. The nearer the time of the moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter, are to midnight, the fairer will the weather be during the seven days following.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

3. The nearer to mid-day or noon, the phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next seven days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio.

5. The moon's change, first quarter, full, and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e. from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather ; but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

" An evening red and morning gray,
Will set the traveller on his way ;
But an evening gray and a morning red,
Will pour down rain on a traveller's head."
